QUICK GUIDE TO ACUPUNCTURE NEEDLE FEATURES

Handles: Loop handles allow more control of rotation when hand stimulating needles. It also makes moxa stimulation of the needle easier. Coil handle provides extra grip when inserting and hand stimulating needles. Straight handles are easier for guide tube or plunger insertion. Stainless steel handles provide a conductive element for electro-stimulation. Copper handles provide extra conductivity and gold the most conductivity. Plastic handles are more affordable and coloured for high visibility.

Needle: All needles are made from high tensile strength stainless steel. Gold plated needles provide extra ‘de qi’ stimulation. Guide tube allows for ease and accuracy of insertion. Inserting needles without guide tubes requires more skill but allows the practitioner to have extra sensitivity and feeling during insertion.

Pointing: Pine shape (Chinese style) pointing provides extra surface area for stimulation. Sharp (Japanese style) pointing minimises pain upon insertion. Point protectors are an added feature to ensure that the needle points are in perfect condition.
